Tri-State Bible College
Annual DAAPP Disclosure

CAMPUSSAFETY POLICY

It is the policy of Tri-State Bible College to provide a campus that promotes the well-being and safety of faculty, students, visitors and customers while in the college classrooms, bookstore, library and/or all property belonging to or being used for the purpose of the everyday operations of the Tri-State Bible College.

In keeping with this policy, TSBC prohibits faculty, students, visitors, and customers from bringing firearms, knives, weapons, drugs, alcoholic beverages and materials of all kinds that would hinder the well-being and safety of persons on campus. This includes, but is not limited to, literature which is of a pornographic or racially discriminating nature and includes computer e-mail messages and software. The college administration will be the sole authority for determining which materials hinder the well-being and safety of persons on campus. TSBC forbids the serving of alcoholic beverages at social functions either on or off campus this includes public and private social gatherings including private individual residences. Students, faculty, staff, and employees who violate this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to expulsion from school and prosecution to the fullest limits of local and Federal laws.

When a violation is suspected, Tri-State Bible College administration reserves the right to examine any and all persons and property which is brought on to TSBC Campus. Property includes, but is not limited to, automobiles, backpacks, notebooks, computers, and clothing. Campus includes, but is not limited to, churches, restaurants, dining halls, and any and all property used for the conducting of Tri-State Bible College business, whether owned by the college or used by permission.

Tri-State Bible College administration reserves the right to expel violators from the campus. This includes the use of police and/or whatever force is necessary to expel those who refuse to leave.

Anyone who violates this policy will be banned from TSBC campus until the administration gives written permission to return to campus.
Simply Stated:

Since the college is located along the borders of three adjoining states, it has been decided to comb through the policies of nearby colleges that are representative of the three states involved: namely, Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia. We also took into consideration a local business in Kentucky and the VA Medical Center located in West Virginia. Using their policies and language, we have set forth the following guidelines and policies for this institution.

The Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendment of 1989 (Public Law 101-226) clearly states that no institution of higher education shall be eligible to receive funds or any other form of financial assistance under any Federal program, including participation in any federally funded or guaranteed student loan program, unless it certifies to the Secretary of Education that it has adopted and has implemented a program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees.

As required by Federal Law, you are hereby notified by Tri-State Bible College that it is the policy of TSBC to prohibit the use, sale, dispensing, possession, or manufacture of illegal drugs and narcotics or alcoholic beverages on its campus, or as part of any of its activities.

The college will not accept for enrollment any student or knowingly hire for employment any person who is an alcoholic or drug abuser whose current use of such substance prevents or impairs them from performing as students and/or employees of the institution and who would constitute a threat to the property or safety of others. This college is unequivocally opposed to the misuse of lawful drugs as well.

All students and employees are expected to abide by the terms of this policy. It is the goal of the college through this policy to create a safe study/work environment.

Health Risks

The potential consequences of drug and alcohol use are enormous for students, employees, and the institution. These include increased damages to buildings, disruption of work schedules, discipline incidents, arrests, physical injuries, accidents and suicide attempts, to name just a few. Further, there is significant evidence that students and employees who consume alcohol and/or use drugs are more likely than others to have ineffective interpersonal relationships and increased incidences of absenteeism. Students who engage in the use of such substances are prone to earn lower grades, drop out of college more often and suffer negative consequences. More specifically, when people use drugs/alcohol, they put themselves at risk for developing a variety of physiological side effects.

Alcohol: Cirrhosis of the liver is closely linked to the consumption of alcohol. There is also a link between drinking alcohol and such conditions as heart disease, malnutrition, hypertension, and cancer. Serious nervous disorders, mental disorders, or brain damages are also risks. Alcohol, like many other drugs that affect the central nervous system, can be physiologically addictive. Drinking need not be long term or addictive to cause accidental injury or death. Even small amounts of alcohol limit coordination and increase a person’s risk of becoming involved in a traffic or household accident. Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses can increase the incidence of aggressive behavior. Alcohol intoxication is equivalent to a drug overdose. Women who drink even small amounts during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome, and children of alcoholic parents have a 40% greater risk of developing alcoholism than those of parents who are not alcoholic.

Marijuana: Some immediate physical effects of marijuana include a faster heartbeat and pulse rate, bloodshot eyes, and a dry mouth and throat. Marijuana during pregnancy may result in premature babies and in low birth weights. Studies of men and women who use marijuana have shown that marijuana may influence levels of some hormones. Marijuana use increases the heart rate as much as fifty percent, and can cause chest pain. Marijuana smoke irritates the lungs and damages the way they work, leading to emphysema and possible cancer. The mood-altering effects of marijuana are the result of the chemical delta – 9 tetrahydrocannabinol (THC). THC is fat-soluble and can remain in the body up to three weeks after smoking one marijuana cigarette. Consequently, even the occasional user can be detected through urinalysis. Research indicates that regular use may have long-term effects on the user’s brain, heart, and reproductive organs. The numerous carcinogenic chemicals found in marijuana make it particularly harmful to the lungs. Loss of memory, lack of motivation, and diminished attention span are some of the effects of regular marijuana use. Long-term use may result in psychological dependence and change in tolerance.

Opiates (Opium, Morphine, Heroin, Codeine, Demerol): Over time, opiate users may develop infections of the heart lining and valves, skin abscesses, and congested lungs. Infections from unsterile solutions, syringes, and needles can cause illness such as liver disease, tetanus, and serum hepatitis.
Hallucinogens (LSD, Mescaline, Psilocybin, DMT, and PCP): Users of hallucinogens sometimes develop signs of organic brain damage, such as impaired memory and attention spans. Mental confusion and difficulty with abstract thinking. Large doses of PCP may result in a convulsive seizure, coma, and death. Mood disorders occur and the user may become violent, irrational, and potentially harmful to self and others. LSD, Mescaline, and psilocybin, cause sensations and feelings to change rapidly. The user may experience panic, confusion, anxiety, depersonalization, and loss of control. While relatively rare, flashbacks may occur.

Barbiturates: Abusive doses of barbiturates (Seconal, Nembutal, Benzodiazepines, Valium, Librium, Tranxene, Quaaludes, Placidyl, Noctec, Miltown) can cause slurred speech, staggering gait, poor judgment, slow and uncertain reflexes, unconsciousness, and even death.

Depressants: The use of depressants can result in a change in tolerance and physical as well as psychological dependency. The combining of several depressants (e.g. Valium and alcohol) will potentiate the depressant effects, multiplying the health hazards. Withdrawal symptoms include anxiety, vomiting, acute psychotic episodes, seizures, and death.

Steroids: Steroid users can experience serous cardiovascular, liver, central nervous system, gastrointestinal, and reproductive disorders. In males, use can result in sterility, impotence, and arrested growth. Psychological impairment includes mood swings, depression, and very aggressive behavior.

Narcotics: Tolerance, especially at the euphoric effect of narcotics and physical dependence, develops rapidly in order to avoid the abstinence syndrome; the addict becomes preoccupied with acquiring the drug. Withdrawal symptoms are extremely uncomfortable, though they seldom are life threatening.

Stimulants (Amphetamines and cocaine): An amphetamine injection creates sudden increases in blood pressure that can cause death from a stroke, very high fever, of heart failure. Long term, heavy use of amphetamines can lead to malnutrition, skin disorders, ulcers, and various diseases that come from vitamin deficiencies. Lack of sleep, weight loss, depression, and brain damage can also result from regular use. Users of cocaine report feelings of restlessness, irritability, anxiety, and sleeplessness. Occasional use can cause a stuffy or runny nose, while chronic snorting can ulcerate mucous membranes of the nose. Injecting cocaine with unsterile equipment can cause hepatitis or other infections. Death from cocaine is the result of multiple seizures followed by respiratory and cardiac arrest.

Crack: The general effects of using crack include extreme changes in blood pressure and increase in heart and respiration rates, insomnia, anxiety, nausea, tremors, convulsions, and death. Smoking crack can cause lung damage, heart attack, stroke, respiratory problems, weight loss, and generally poor health.
Disciplinary Sanctions for Policy Violations

Students and employees of the college will be subject to legal and disciplinary action up to and including dismissal and will be referred for prosecution in accordance with local, state, and federal laws for bringing illegal non-prescribed drugs and narcotics or alcoholic beverages to the campus. Severe disciplinary sanctions up to and including expulsion or termination of employment will be imposed on students and employees for being under the influence of such substances on or off campus; or possessing, dispensing, distributing, or illegally manufacturing or selling them on or off the college premises. Student and employee possessions are subject to search and surveillance at all times.

Any administrator, faculty member, or staff supervisor who notices a student or fellow employee demonstrating unusual behavior patterns which appear to be drug, narcotic, or alcohol related should report the observed behavior to appropriate authorities (See student disciplinary policies in the Student Handbook.)

Students or employees convicted of any criminal drug violation while enrolled or in the employment of the college will be dismissed immediately. Those who supplied false or misleading admissions information with reference to their history of substance abuse will be dismissed immediately.

Students engaging in the use of drugs, narcotics, or alcohol and who voluntarily seek college sponsored or private professional counseling will be given extra consideration in their effort to rehabilitate. College sponsored counseling will be made available and confidentially will prevail. Academic performance and Christian character, not the fact that a student seeks counseling, will be the basis of all evaluation and assessment, assuming that the student adheres to the treatment plan and succeeds in the effort to rehabilitate.

An employee who is found to be a user of drugs, narcotics, or alcohol may be granted a leave of absence, without compensation, to undertake mandatory rehabilitation treatment at his/her own expense. The employee will not be permitted to return to work until certification is presented to the administration that the employee is capable of performing his/her job. Failure to cooperate fully with the rehabilitation plan will result in termination. Employees who are found to have falsified employment information with reference to their history of substance abuse will be terminated immediately.

Both students and employees are guaranteed due process; however, the college has the responsibility of upholding local, state, and federal laws regarding the use of drugs and alcohol. Students admitted to the college and personnel hired by the college accept the responsibility to conform to all the college’s rules and regulations concerning substance abuse matters. The college desires to create an environment that is safe for the student and for the employee. Each one of us has a responsibility to one another to conduct ourselves according to the rules of good behavior and conduct.

Drug/Alcohol Counseling and Information Programs

Tri-State Bible College’s attempt to disseminate vital information about the health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol is supplemented by the presence and availability of drug and alcohol counseling. Treatment programs in the area to which students and employees may be referred include the following:

6. On campus counseling is available at all times through the administrative offices

Legal Sanctions for the Unlawful Possession or Distribution of Illicit Drugs/Alcohol

Any student or employee who uses, sells, disperses, possesses, or manufactures illegal drugs, narcotics or alcohol will not be protected from criminal prosecution. Any information gathered in the disciplinary hearings of the college is subject to judicial subpoena and will be turned over to the proper legal authorities. Federal, State and local laws provide stiff penalties for violations of prohibitions related to controlled substances. Persons who knowingly and unlawfully traffic in illegal or controlled substances will be subject to prosecution and conviction including incarceration and fines or both.
Persons found guilty of violating statutes related to illegal or controlled substances may be ordered by the court to a facility where a program of education, treatment, and rehabilitation shall be prescribed. DISCIPLINE & DISMISSAL POLICY

I. Philosophy of Discipline:

Our highest goal for students is growth in their faith and obedience to our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

In the event a student needs to be disciplined; Tri-State Bible College desires to deal with each offence in the most loving and godly way possible. Our goal is to restore the brother or sister to fellowship and usefulness in the Kingdom of God.

II. Basis for the Discipline & Dismissal Policy:

Biblical absolutes are those unchanging Scriptural truths about God, His creation and the salvation and life He has provided for us. Rooted in His character and law, these truths are universal and unchanged by time, circumstances, culture or human interpretation. Included in the absolutes are certain commands and requirements of the Bible about moral living.

Because we desire that the life of Christ be manifested in the Tri-State Bible College community, it is expected that every direct command of God for the believer will be obeyed. To love other Christians, to do good to all men, be filled with the Spirit, obey the Word of God and trust God for personal needs are illustrative of some of the positive commands of Scripture.

The Bible also forbids practices such as stealing, drunkenness, gossip, gluttony, dishonesty, occult involvement, murder, profanity, premarital sex, adultery and homosexual behavior. In addition, attitudes such as lust, thanklessness, pride, hatred, rebellion, and jealousy are equally displeasing to God.

These Biblical precepts are to govern our lives on and away from campus. The life of Christ will thereby be manifest in our thinking, attitudes and conduct, while we express joy and abundant living.

III. Procedure:

1. Reports of improper conduct may be made by staff, administration, faculty or students, and should be directed to the Vice President of Student Affairs.
2. The Vice President of Student Affairs will confer with the reporting party to ascertain the facts and to determine what, if any, action should be taken.

3. The Vice President of Student Affairs may, if deemed appropriate, approach the accused student in an attempt to resolve the problem.

4. The Vice President of Student Affairs may at any time (and at his discretion) consult with the Conduct Review committee.

   Note: The Conduct Review committee consists of any three members of the Student Affairs committee excluding the college president. It should be pointed out that one member of the Student Affairs committee is the president of the Student Council. The Conduct Review committee’s role is to supplement the disciplinary decision making process of the Vice President of Student Affairs. The Conduct Review committee acts on behalf of the larger community to determine the nature and extent of discipline.

   Written procedures for the Conduct Review committee are thoroughly explained to students entering the process. A copy of these procedures can be reviewed in the student handbook.

5. The Conduct Review committee after hearing the matter will recommend appropriate action. This action can include, but is not limited to, work duties, fines, formal letter of reprimand, probation, suspension, dismissal, or expulsion.

   a. Work duties – the student is responsible to complete an assigned ministry within a specified period of time.

   b. Fines – when deemed necessary, appropriate fines may be accessed by the Vice President of Student Affairs or the Conduct Review committee.

   c. Formal letter of reprimand – a formal warning to a student whose character/conduct is unacceptable by institutional standards will be given by the Vice President of Student Affairs to encourage a positive response. This letter will be a permanent part of the student’s file and failure to respond positively may lead to further discipline.

   d. Probation – a student may be placed under certain restrictions to be specified by the Vice President of Student Affairs or the Conduct Review committee. In most cases it may be assumed that any further infraction of TSBC policy will result in suspension. Students may be asked to inform their parents and/or pastor.

   e. Suspension – TSBC reserves the right to suspend students involved in serious infractions. A student may be placed on suspension without a formal warning if the Conduct Review committee deems the infraction serious enough.
When suspended, the student must leave campus within the stated time limit. The student may not attend campus activities during the suspension time except by written permission from the Vice President of Student Affairs. The Conduct Review committee will designate the length of suspension. Parents and/or pastor will be notified. The Student Affairs committee and the Administrative Council may readmit a student upon his/her written request and approval.

f. Dismissal – the student must leave school for a minimum of one year after which he or she may be considered for readmission at the discretion of the Vice President of Student Affairs and the Conduct Review committee.

g. Expulsion – the student must leave school immediately and may never return.

IV. Disciplinary Appeal Process:

The student has the right to appeal major disciplinary actions taken by the Vice President of Student Affairs or the Conduct Review committee.

The appeal must be made in writing within 48 hours of the original decision. The appeal should follow the student complaint procedure as set forth in the student handbook, and should begin with step two. Initially, then, the written complaint will be directed to the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

STUDENT COMPLAINTS

Should a student have a legitimate complaint for which he/she has not found a remedy, the college administration has provided a Student Complaint Form to aid in this problem. The form should be filed according to the instructions given on the page following the form. The proper authorities will follow up all complaints. See appendix for Student Complaint Form.
